World Affairs Council of Orange County

Invites you to participate in our
2021 Academic WorldQuest

March 13th, 2021

The World Affairs Council of Orange County is one of 94 councils throughout the United States. World Affairs Councils are non-profit, non-partisan, non-government organizations open to all who wish to join.

Academic WorldQuest is a team competition held among Orange County high school students which tests students' knowledge of global affairs. This year the winning team from Orange County will be awarded the opportunity to participate in the National Academic WorldQuest on April 17 2021! Recruit your team of trivia all-stars and join us for an afternoon of fun and friendly competition!

Academic WorldQuest is an exceptional opportunity for students to learn about and engage in international affairs through fun and challenging activities. Furthermore, students are able to include their experiences on their resumes or college applications.

Any students who participate in Academic WorldQuest will be offered a complementary student membership to the World Affairs Council of Orange County which will allow them to participate in upcoming events and lectures at discounted prices. Upcoming events will engage students in discussions about a host of pressing international issues.
