has operated a successful sustainable farm in Maine for over forty years.

Because of a grave concern for the future of agriculture, Will founded the Scatterseed Project in order to preserve the genetic diversity of crops.
When Will isn't busy farming, he gives talks on sustainability and vegan gardening and has written various articles on farming, as well as two books, "The Yaro Tales - Through the Eyes of a Stranger" and "Will Bonsall's Essential Guide to Radical, Self-Reliant Gardening".
