

Wandering Indiana

So this is a different article from the normal. As those that follow my Indiana wanderings, I have been to all 92 counties, to every State Park, to every reservoir, to every State Forest, and to most every fish and wildlife area. I would go to all of those but I really don't fish or hunt and most of these don't have trails to run, hike or bike. I have been to many nature preserves, I have been to most of the state historic sites. There are so many cool places to go in Indiana and if YOU are not taking advantage of all that Indiana has to offer, YOU are really missing out!

My request of all of you readers is this: Please pass along your favorite place to visit so I can check it out, or better yet maybe you can give me a tour! A city or town, a nature preserve, a park, a restaurant, a drive inn theater, a favorite campground, road, river, or lake. You got something I need to see, I want to see it. Ever read those odd places or haunted places books? Pass along your location.

Help me out and over the next several months and we will mention the places you have passed along. Thank you and Here's to Wandering!
