Dear Village Colleague:

This is your personal invitation to join the host committee for a special upcoming event - the launch of the Village's 10th Anniversary year celebration - with author, social entrepreneur, and founder of Encore.org Marc Freedman. Freedman will discuss his new book, How to Live Forever: The Enduring Power of Connecting the Generations in conversation with Dianne Campbell and Tom Kuczumarski at the DePaul University Student Center on Tuesday, January 22.

As Chairman of the Host Committee now forming, please join me and the event hosts listed below. Let's utilize this opportunity to expand Village outreach and increase visibility in the community - especially among younger generations - through programming such as this event and our recently formed Bridging Generations Board.

You can join the host committee by committing to attend and recruit five other attendees, and thereby purchasing or selling six tickets (or more if you can). As it is formed, the host committee members will be listed in the weekly Member Memo, the January Navigator newsletter and in the event program.

To help you get the word out we will provide you with some tools: sample announcements as well the event flyer which can be forwarded via email or regular mail.

Inviting people to this event as your guests is a great way to reciprocate for an invitation; say thank you; or to just do something nice for a friend.

To join the host committee, just fill out and return the form to The Village Chicago, 2502 N. Clark Street, Chicago, IL 60614; or call Yoon Tae Chong, Fund Development Coordinator at 773.248.8700.
