

New Programming with North Community Counseling Centers

North Community Counseling Centers has developed new and exciting programs to better serve our clients. This summer we launched The Center for New Americans (CNA), a center dedicated to providing assistance, advocacy, education, and support to folks that are new to the United States. Programming at CNA has expanded to include artistic, spiritual, and athletic opportunities to further enrich the cultural experience for all participants. Our new Youth and Adolescent Outpatient Program was developed to better serve the increasing needs of children in our community with a variety of creative and holistic services. From child psychiatry and play therapy to education and support for parents, the Youth and Adolescent Outpatient Program can provide the information, resources, and specialized care for the most vulnerable clients that we serve. Additionally, North Community is now offering a Men's Anger Management Group. This 12-week program collaborates with probation and parole departments to provide the education and support individuals need to overcome their struggles with anger. As we move into 2019 there is even more excitement in store for North Community Counseling Centers, including a Women's Empowerment Program, dedicated to providing opportunities and the emboldening and encouraging of women in our community. We look forward to continuing to provide top-notch services to the citizens of Franklin county throughout the new year, as we aim to make an even bigger positive impact on our community.
