What's Going on in SCHOOL?

ROOM 113

Students in Room 113 have been excited and eager to spend the month of February learning more about Black History Month and the Chinese New Year!

Students have been working on daily living and simulated vocational skills, and have also begun working on new seasonal crafts and cards in Wildcat Made.

ROOM 116

This month, Room 116 is focusing on Black History! We are learning about incredible bravery by standing up for ourselves and others. As a part of this lesson, we read a wonderful story titled "Henry's Freedom Box", which is a non-fiction book about escaping slavery.

In honor of the month of February, we have spent time making some festive treats, including heart shaped pancakes and groundhog day donuts for our cooking class!

Together, we can accomplish anything!
