Tech Park Business Accelerator Gearing Up For Cyber-FinTech Event

As transactions move to the digital space, the need to securely process them becomes more important for business. A 2-day event will take place at Atlanta Tech Park in Peachtree Corners Sept. 18-19, bringing cyber security and financial technology firms together for panel discussions, networking, and product discovery.

Advancements in cybersecurity and fintech technology play an ever-increasing role in consumer behavior. The ATL Cyber-Fin Global Innovation Challenge will mix the two industries and offer developers an opportunity to win cash prizes.

“It is the only global event around Atlanta to offer an opportunity for enterprises and entrepreneurs to share ideas, learn about disruptors and discover all these industries have to offer,” said Robin Bienfait, founder and CEO of Emnovate and Atlanta Tech Park. “Participating in this event will allow sponsors to see first-hand what new innovation is on the horizon as well as forge alliances with entrepreneurs developing in their space.”

Speakers include:

- * Ed Pascua, IAM and Cybersecurity senior advisor Simeo Solutions
- * Jack Barsky, retired KGB spy and IT executive
- * Robin Bienfait, founder and CEO of Emnovate
- * Roop Singh, technology strategist for Intuit Factory.
