Schedule:

12:00 PM - 12:30 PM Networking Session

12:30 PM - 1:30 PM Panel Presentation by Owners of Healthcare Institutions

AMFP and DBIA have joined forces to get the Owner's perspective on an integrative delivery method that is becoming more prevalent year after year. Design-Build is an attractive approach since it is collaborative, streamlines the process, and reduces risk, improving the overall quality of the project. This panel of public and private healthcare providers in the country includes one of the largest teaching hospitals on the West Coast with a longer history of successful design-build projects. Owners will share their expectations of the Design-Build team, lessons learned, and their perspective on the future of Design-Build now. Healthcare organizations considering or transitioning from a Design-Bid-Build to a Design-Build approach will position their organization toward successful project implementation.
