Visceral Manipulation

Advanced Clinical Applications for Common Clinical Issues

5-Part Series

Highlights of this exciting, new series of courses:

- Learn historical perspectives and the evolutionary and embryological development of each organ to better appreciate organ anatomy, physiology, common issues associated with each organ, and organ/organ relationships.

- Learn how to connect with and apply VM techniques in a way that improves patient outcomes.

- Refine your listening skills in order to be more precise and efficient with treatments.

- Learn how to integrate VM techniques with organ-brain connections.

- Learn nutritional, diet and lifestyle options to support each organ.

- Learn how to teach your patients at-home techniques to support their organ of dysfunction.

"Ron Mariotti has developed a series of courses to assist my students in the integration of visceral manipulation into their manual therapy practices. A wealth of theoretical and clinical details including research and clinical-based information about diet and organ health are provided.

— Jean-Pierre Barral, DO, MRO(F)

Dr. Ron Mariotti, ND, BI-D
Developer of this 5-part series and the online VM study group

---

Part 1: Stomach, Liver, GB
VM-ACA-CG-1
Prerequisites: VM3 and VM4. LT1 is recommended.
Palm Beach, FL   March 20-22, 2020

Part 2: Duodenum, Jejunoileum, Colon, Rectum
VM-ACA-CG-2
Prerequisites: VM3 and VM4. LT1 is recommended.
Palm Beach, FL   September 18-20, 2020

Part 3: Pancreas, Spleen, Kidney
VM-ACA-CG-3
Prerequisites: VM3 and VM4. LT1 is recommended.
Palm Beach, FL   March 12-14, 2021

Part 4: Bladder, Uterus, Ovary & Uterine Tubes, Prostate & Testicles
VM-ACA-GU
Prerequisites: VM3 and VM4. LT1 is recommended.
Palm Beach, FL   December 3-5, 2021

Part 5: Thyroid, Esophagus, Bronchi & Lungs, Heart & Pericardium
VM-ACA-TCP
Prerequisites: VM3 and VM4. LT1 is recommended.
Palm Beach, FL   September 9-11, 2022

Check online for International Dates & Locations

Call or Click to Register
866.522.7725 | 561.622.4334 | Barralinstitute.com

THE BARRAL INSTITUTE