

Bio - Charles Bobb-Semple CEO (Ag.) (iGovTT)

Positively impacting the lives of persons is his passion and building performing teams with a common vision is his calling. This is the ethos of Mr. Charles Bobb-Semple, CEO (Ag.) of the National Information and Communication Company Limited (iGovTT) of Trinidad and Tobago.

Charles is an accomplished, results-driven professional with notable success leading a broad range of Enterprise ICT system covering the ICT gamut throughout his distinguished career. He is a certified project management professional, with more than two decades of ICT experience, with qualifications of an MBA and an MSc in Computer Science.

Charles is also the founder of Fusion, the largest adventure race in the region, which has lived up to the tagline “When you cross the finish line you will know more about yourself.” He also has had the benefit of working directly with the youth through his role as VP in the Abilene Wildcats Athletic Club with numerous successes in track and field.

So, his two loves are athletics and technology. For those of you who may see these as two disparate fields, they are both marinated with discipline and leadership.

In Mr. Bobb-Semple’s own words:

“iGovTT provides me with the opportunity to pursue my passion where I have the privilege to provide vision and leadership to an organisation that is vested in improving the lives of persons within our twin-island republic of Trinidad and Tobago.”
