Certified Professional in Anti Money Laundering - CPAML

Start Date – August 17th, 2021

To register go to: <https://bit.ly/3cjSoED>

The CPAML™ certification is FIBA's most advanced-level AML certification.

The CPAML is an advanced level certification designed to expand the knowledge of professionals, officers, directors, or managers of any organization, with respect to the prevention of money laundering and financing of terrorism (AML/CFT). The program is developed with a risk-based approach to identify potential risks, to design an effective control system, to investigate suspicious cases and how to use these processes to best evaluate the effectiveness of internal controls.

This advanced AML certification has been integrated in the curriculum of Florida International University's (FIU) College of Law Juris Master Program. All JM graduates successfully complete the CPAML certification as part of the overall program.

Who Should take CPAML?

The participant must already know the basics of AML compliance and analysis and have at least three (3) years' AML supervisory experience or a risk management and/or compliance role, as well as a strong knowledgebase on AML/CFT compliance fundamentals.

Candidates Include

• Compliance Officers	• Directors and Senior Management
• AML / CFT Risk Managers	• Risk Managers
• Auditors	• Attorneys at Law
• Accountants	• Seasoned AML Consultants
• Regulators	• Law Enforcement Personnel

Program Overview

This advanced level course includes case studies and real examples of the challenges faced by the Senior AML Compliance Officer or AML Compliance Manager who is responsible for the entire AML compliance program at the institution. This certification focuses on the analysis and interpretative side of AML compliance that is necessary in a risk-based regulatory environment.

Through open discussions and activities, participants will have the opportunity to actively engage with the instructor and classmates to discuss the assigned materials.

Prior to the classroom program, participants must review the FIBA CPAML workbook, which consists of eight (8) case studies.

During the classroom program (2 Days of Live Virtual training), participants will complete the case-study exercises and actively contribute to discussions.
