Mastering Today While Architecting Tomorrow

Presented by

Business leaders are often tasked with the difficult job of managing current operational needs while also planning for the future. In an environment marked by intense competition and uncertainty, it's essential for companies to maintain daily efficiency and, at the same time, innovate to ensure long-term success. This dual focus is referred to as ambidextrous leadership—an approach where leaders aim to achieve both short-term optimization (exploitation) and long-term innovation (exploration) at once.

EACC TRANSFORM 2025

October 9th, 2025
1 pm to 7 pm
Location to be Announced

This Symposium will connect and engage business leaders on the topic of ambidextrous leadership and how to both optimize present performance while planning for similarly optimized future performance.

Changes and crises are occurring at ever shorter intervals requiring leaders be both adaptable and prepared. Industry and thought leaders will share their knowledge and experiences to provide practical insights, ideas and guidance.

The goal is to simplify and help identify immediate opportunities for symposium guests to manage their businesses on DUAL HORIZONS so that they may master today while architecting for tomorrow
