Over the years, we have had the privilege of witnessing so many meaningful moments. We have watched guests cry when opening a gift from a stranger. We have seen people who would have never met getting to know each other at the shared dinners brought in nightly by so many groups. We have seen our incredible staff members comforting guests in their darkest moments. We have seen people on the edge of despair find their strength again and move forward with their lives.

All our lives have been touched by the meaningful difference we have made in our community and the lives of so many, plus all we have accomplished. So many guests have been helped, and in the process, those who offered guests support found themselves transformed, too. We have all been helped by helping others. And we can’t forget that along the way, we have had fun and made lasting friendships. For all of this, we are profoundly grateful.
