

Scotty B Overdose Awareness Day (Continued)

Representatives from many local addiction services agencies will be present to provide information, which makes it the perfect networking opportunity. In addition, there will be expert speakers, including Robert Kent, former General Counsel to the NYS Office of Addiction Services and the White House Office of National Drug Control Policy, along with Mayor Malik Evans and County Executive Adam Bello. A vigil to remember loved ones who died from an overdose will close out the evening.

There will be music, food, resources, community, and compassion. If you or someone you know is affected by the drug overdose epidemic, this is the event you should attend.
