

Regional Police Peer Support Team Training

This meeting will unite all participating Peer Support Teams of the Law Enforcement Agencies in Southern California. All are welcome! Learn about the regionalization of some agencies in various Southern California areas have effectively worked together during critical incidents. This meeting will aim to unite all of the Southern California police departments. Departments that do not have a peer support team established are also encouraged to attend.

At this meeting, a team leader will be identified for each police agency, and all leaders will learn how to communicate with one another in order to provide, or receive mutual aid when needed. Additionally, you will learn how other agencies are running their teams. You will learn how to create a peer support team, make a wellness board for your department, advertise your services to your co-workers, recruit peer supporters, and learn where you can receive peer support trainings throughout the year. Participants will also learn about the invaluable resources for first responders in Southern California.

This training is organized by a Board Certified Police Psychologist, Gina Gallivan, Ph.D., ABPP license #PSY18184, and the proceeds will be donated to this newly founded Peer Support Association www.pspssa.org. Nancy Bohl-Penrod, Ph.D. and/or staff of the Counseling Team International will co-host this event and inform us of their new trauma retreat for first responders. Presenters include peer supporters from various police departments, sheriff's departments, chaplains, and professionals from substance abuse facilities.
