ABOUT THE TREASURY OF CLAREMONT MUSIC

Claremont Heritage is proud to present, in collaboration with Tom Skelly, The Treasury of Claremont Music Archive Project. This project was started a number of years ago by Skelly, an artist, radio DJ, and avid music fan, in order to document Claremont's expansive music community and the plethora of musicians who have called the Pomona Valley home over the years. These artists and musicians have made an indelible impact on our musical history and we hope to capture and share the legacy and influence these musicians and groups have provided to the music community.

The Treasury of Claremont Music website (treasuryofclaremontmusic.com) is an online digital “Living Archive” that will showcase the rich cultural heritage of Claremont's local musicians both past and present, providing context for the vibrant musical scene that still exists to this day. The Treasury of Claremont Music will continually be updated to highlight some of the regions most notable and important musicians by collecting biographies, photographs, and music clips to offer a glimpse of the diverse musical talent that has impacted so many. We hope to introduce and inform you about new musical artists and upcoming events, while providing a platform for further discovery of the music of Claremont.

Please join us for the launch of this exciting project and continued events!
