

Harold V. House is a retired educator. During his career of 35 years, he served as a business and special needs teacher, special education coordinator and principal. Most of his work was focused on incarcerated and at risk youth. He is a former mayor and municipal judge.

Harold currently works part time as a GED instructor and special education teacher in the Vigo County Jail and Lighthouse Mission. He earned both the BS and Ed.S degrees at Indiana State University and the MS degree at University of Dayton and Ohio State University.