

PATRICIA USEEM, PRESIDENT

Patty Useem has been involved in LDA for over 25 years, with the last seven being with LDA of Indiana. As an LD specialist, she has been involved in education across the life-span, teaching in regular and special education classrooms as well as at the university level and in private practice.

One of her main focuses is to increase awareness of learning disabilities and improve the direct services available to students throughout Indiana. Presently, along with her volunteer activities with LDA, Patty has a private practice in the Greater Lafayette area in which she provides remediation, tutoring, academic coaching, and advocating.
