

What is the Fatherhood Initiative Program?

HOC started the Fatherhood Initiative Program in 2016 to be a thriving resource for fathers of all ages. In Montgomery County, very few programs exist that specifically target fathers and provide help with the complex and important issues that only fathers face.

The Fatherhood Initiative Program, in partnership with Montgomery College, provides career exploration classes for current students and tuition assistance for Fatherhood Initiative program graduates. In addition, all students gain access to our network of local and county partners ready to provide support to our fathers.

“Our goal is to provide fathers entering our program with a sense of joy, inspiration, and hope.”
