

Creating a New Website for PPRA

- Platform built specifically for membership organizations like PPRA
- Clean, crisp design – easy to follow navigation
- Significantly enhanced capabilities for members, sponsors, professionals, and those interested in joining

Current PPRA Website

The screenshot shows the homepage of the PPRA website. The header features the PPRA logo (blue square with 'PPRA' in white) and the text 'PHILADELPHIA PUBLIC RELATIONS ASSOCIATION'. The top navigation bar includes links for 'About Us', 'Contact', 'Site Map', and 'Log In'. The main banner has a blue background with a classical building and a statue on the right. A quote by George Bernard Shaw is displayed: "Life isn't about finding yourself. It's about creating yourself." Below the banner is a sidebar with links to 'Home', 'Membership', 'Sponsorship', 'Awards', 'PPRA Programs', 'Speakers Bureau', 'Gallery', 'Career Corner', 'PR Resources', 'Student Resources', and 'Find a PR Professional'. The main content area contains three articles: 'Wanted: PPRA Committee Volunteers', 'PPRA Mentorship Program', and 'Now Accepting Awards Nominations'. The sidebar also features a section for 'Upcoming PPRA Events' with a link to the 'Annual Meeting Celebration' on June 22, 2017, from 5:30 - 7:30 p.m. Social media links for Twitter and Facebook are at the bottom, along with a link to 'The Official Blog'.

Wanted: PPRA Committee Volunteers

Join the PPRA committee to support our mission of professional growth and education. Make the decision that you should be part of your professional organization and be a part of the most successful, most dedicated, and most fun committee in the association.

PPRA Mentorship Program

We encourage our more experienced members to engage in the professional development of our younger members. This is a great way to give back to the association and to provide the next generation of public relations professionals with the knowledge and skills they need to succeed.

Now Accepting Awards Nominations

It's time to start thinking about the 2017 PPRA Awards of Excellence! We are accepting nominations for the following awards: Public Relations Professional of the Year, Outstanding PR Department, Outstanding PR Program, Outstanding PR Project, Outstanding PR Student, and the prestigious Paul F. Fazio Award. Get more information on these awards here.

Welcome to PPRA

The Philadelphia Public Relations Association, Inc. (PPRA) is the premier association for public relations professionals in the Greater Philadelphia area. Founded in 1945, PPRA is the nation's oldest and largest independent public relations association.

Members of PPRA are dedicated professionals who bring greater understanding to what's happening in the region. PPRA members inspire excellence amongst themselves and everyone they encounter through mentoring and networking, as well as actively participating in educational workshops and professional development readings. SUPPORT PPRA

Short paragraph of text encouraging people to donate.

Since our inception in 1945, the PPRA has accepted thousands of dollars in donations from both members and non-members. These donations are not sponsorships - they are separate funds given to the organization from an individual or business.

Unless instructed otherwise, the PPRA uses donated funds for general operating expenses. These might include support of educational events, vendor payments, and other day-to-day expenses.

However, in some cases individuals who have donated to PPRA have requested that funds be used for specific causes, such as outside speaking engagements or travel to educational events for members.

The PPRA is a 501 (c)(6) non-profit organization. This means that while a company may not deduct donations to PPRA as a charitable contribution, the company (if operating in the same "industry or region") can write off the donation as a business-related expense.

How to Donate

If you are interested in donating to the PPRA, please complete the form below.
