The Power of Telling Our Stories

Each of us has a story worth telling. In this season of life, learning how to share our stories — with ourselves, with loved ones, and with our community — can be a source of wisdom, healing, and transformation. It is a gift we give ourselves and others.

SEEKING to Belong

Join us for this special session with Dr. Terry Nelson-Johnson, a respected theologian, spiritual guide, and renowned storyteller, as he leads us in reflection and practice around the sacred art of storytelling.
