

Bellringers
Rotary Club of Salem
2/3/2021

Alison Kelley would like to ring the bell for the new community campaign, “iRespect & Protect.” This is the product of three years of listening and planning! The campaign will empower youth and adults to celebrate their worth and hopefully feel more supported in making safer digital and online choices. More information can be found in today’s edition of the Salem Reporter and online at irespectandprotect.com. Thank you to President Sue and her team at the Boys and Girls Club, to Cyndi Leinessar and all those at Salem Health, and to all those Rotarians who have attended community meetings and focus groups – your input has made a big difference. Let’s help our next generation to have the resilience they need to succeed!

Tricia Frizzell is ringing the bell to announce that her busy life just got even busier. Her Mom convinced her to take on two baby goats who now are living in her garage. They are wearing sweaters.

Alison Kelly is ringing the bell again — twice this time — in penance for failing to get the January 13 bellringers published in a recent eBlast. She apologizes. [We won’t charge those who want to repeat their bellringer.]

Chane Griggs is ringing the bell for the birth of her 11th grandchild, Arkin Juergenson, boy, 5 lb 7 oz (premie), and 19 inches. Chane say he is “just super cute!”
