DESCRIPTION

Join us LIVE & IN PERSON for the Lactation Lab featuring Dr. Jack Newman! During this session, Dr. Newman will not only be sharing with us the theory behind clinical practice, but providing hands-on clinical demonstrations LIVE with lactating individuals and their infants. Get an intimate look at the clinical approach and skills Dr. Newman uses to solve the most difficult chest/breastfeeding challenges in this never-before-seen demonstration and case study review. You don't want to miss this. Tickets for this live event will be offered for both in-person or virtual attendance!

OBJECTIVES

Following this presentation, participants will be able to:

- Confidently employ problem solving and deductive reasoning skills for advanced clinical lactation practitioners
- Independently identify the need for and utilization of lactation tools and aids
- Develop, implement, and evaluate a client-driven individualized feeding plan in consultation with clients and their healthcare team
