

Growing the Best for YOU!

A message from Canada's 43,000 canola farmers.

For decades, Canadian canola farmers have been producing nutritious, plentiful and affordable ingredients for your family to enjoy while respecting the environment and land they live and work on. Canada's canola farmers want Canadians to know how they use the best that science and innovation have to offer.

Protecting the environment around us. We often live on or close to our farmland – it's our home and livelihood. We work hard to protect biodiversity, keep our soil healthy, and minimize the environmental impacts of our farming practices.

Embracing science and innovation on our farms. Because of science and innovation, we've been able to grow more high-quality canola on less land using modern farming technologies.

Caring for our crops. Plants are living, breathing things that require good care to thrive. We take pride in keeping our canola crops healthy by nourishing and protecting them on the farm.

Canola farmers continue to evaluate and develop new learnings and practices to ensure they are always doing everything they can to continue to improve. Because canola farmers are always committed to growing the best for you.

Read more: <https://canolaeatwell.com/growing-canola/>