Level

Teri, is a self taught artist, that has been painting for about 7-8 years. She started with pencil portraits, moved on to oil painting for a few years, then found watercolor and was hooked! She loves Watercolor because of its magical tendencies. It takes on a life of its own. Mixing color, watching it combine together never ceases to amaze her. You never know what you'll create. You can start with one idea and end up making something totally different which is where the magic comes into play. Plan on flowers and end up with a waterfall! Teri's work can be seen at Crooked Tree Art Center in Petoskey, Boyne Art Collective in Boyne City, and Art on the Lobby in Walloon.

Cost: $25 which includes supplies and a pint from the bar.

Proceeds will be donated to “Create” art center to provide art scholarships for area children.

Why Come? Participants will have fun meeting new people and creating a work of art to take home.
