

2022 Brain & Behavioral Health Research Day

Friday, April 8, 9-3:30 pm

Open to the Public!

Register & submit an abstract at bit.ly/bbhresearchday2022

ABOUT

A hybrid event on current brain & behavioral health research and community programs in New Mexico. This signature event for the UNM Brain & Behavioral Health Institute is designed to foster multi-disciplinary collaboration.

LOCATION

The University of New Mexico Domenici Center & Zoom
Parking available upon request

REGISTRATION

Registration is required and will remain open throughout the event.

ABSTRACT SUBMISSION DEADLINE

March 25, 2022

POSTER COMPETITION INFORMATION

An “opt-in” competition is open to eligible participants.
See registration link for more information.

AGENDA HIGHLIGHTS

- 9 am Poster Session
In-person only
- 12 pm Keynote Presentation
“Encoding of space and time in cortical structures”
Michael E. Hasselmo, D.Phil, Boston University.
In-person & Zoom
- 1:30 pm UNM Resource Showcase
Showcase of pre-clinical and clinical service cores and resources available to UNM investigators and trainees, and successful community-based participatory research featuring the San Felipe Pueblo.
Zoom Only
- 3 pm Closing Remarks & Poster Awards
Zoom Only

This event is co-sponsored by UNM Brain & Behavioral Health Institute | Center for Memory and Aging | HSC Office of Research | UNM Dept of Neurosciences | UNM Dept of Neurology | UNM Dept of Psychiatry & Behavioral Sciences | NIDA Clinical Trials Network SW Node
Event contact: faithann@salud.unm.edu

brain.health.unm.edu