

Department of Bioethics and Medical Humanities
Faculty Candidate Presentation to Student Body, Faculty and Staff

Every presentation will use the same Zoom Link

Dr. Nicholas Mercado, candidate for a Bioethics and Medical Humanities faculty position in Macon

Wednesday, August 25 at 12 noon

Nicholas R. Mercado, DrPH, MCHES, HEC-C, is a board-certified clinical ethicist at Northwell Health and an Assistant Professor of Medicine at the Donald and Barbara Zucker School of Medicine at Hofstra/Northwell on Long Island, NY. In his current position, Dr. Mercado conducts clinical ethics consultations, sits on numerous hospital ethics committees, participates in scholarly research projects, and oversees medical ethics educational and clinical services. Dr. Mercado has over eight years of higher education administrative experience and serves as faculty lead for the ethics and professionalism curriculum at the Zucker School of Medicine.

Johnson Laney, candidate for a Bioethics and Medical Humanities faculty position in Macon

Wednesday, September 1 at 12 noon

Johnson Laney is currently a postdoctoral ethics fellow at Vanderbilt University Medical Center. He worked in hospital administration after completing his undergraduate degree at Emory University and JD at UGA. His teaching and research interest is at the intersection of clinical ethics, hospital operations, and law, with the priority of improving the patient experience.

Calvin Bradley, Jr, candidate for a Bioethics and Medical Humanities faculty position in Macon

Wednesday, September 8 at 12 noon

Calvin Bradley, Jr. currently serves as pediatric staff chaplain at Vidant Medical Center in Greenville, NC and is a 2021 Sadler Scholar with the Hastings Center. He is a board-certified chaplain, certified family life educator, and a healthcare ethics certified consultant. He has degrees from East Carolina University, Drexel University, Campbell University, and doctoral studies at NOVA Southeastern University.