GET INVOLVED WITH THIS EXCITING EVENT!

The event is organized similar to a trade show: local companies, military commands, and community organizations have exhibits with interactive STEM activities for the students. Examples of recent booths include drones, robotics, virtual and augmented reality, energy and weather presentations and much more!

Fleet Week invites you to support our STEM program through sponsorship, company participation or as a volunteer. Your support demonstrates a commitment to superior STEM education for students in our communities and to the continued growth of the STEM-based industries that call San Diego home.
