Church of the Month
King Hill Community United Presbyterian Church
King Hill, Idaho

When the King Hill church formed in 1918, the congregation consisted of Methodists and Presbyterians. According to the Lore, the Presbyterians provided more money and so the church became Presbyterian.

King Hill is a farming community which has dwindled as profitable farming has required more land. The town currently has about 100 occupants and the church is the only public meeting place.

Church of the Month
King Hill Community United Presbyterian Church
King Hill, Idaho

Introducing Terry Parish:

Terry keeps the doors to King Hill open! He schedules supply preachers for King Hill and their partner church, Glenn's Ferry Methodist Church. He ensures that the church is available for community use, and keeps abreast of Presbytery responsibilities.

Church of the Month
King Hill Community United Presbyterian Church
King Hill, Idaho

Introducing Randy Marshal:

In addition to active participation at Southminster and Presbytery responsibilities, Randy is a CLP, and is currently serving as moderator of session and supply preacher.

Church of the Month
King Hill Community United Presbyterian Church
King Hill, Idaho

Feed them and they will come!

Whether it is snacks for a meeting, or a dinner featuring BBQ beef AND turkey and lots of sides the King Hill church is known for its hospitality.

Because the church is the only public meeting place in town, the church hosts all funerals and community events. They even remodeled their bathrooms and kitchen to meet the needs of the local community.

