Time	Topic	Presenters
8:30 – 9:00	Coffee and Networking
9:00 – 9:15	Welcome and Opening Remarks	Herb Gunn Margaret Davis
9:15 – 10:15	In Search of the Secret Sauce for Great OLLI Teaching  Instructors for OLLIs will tell you that teaching intellectually curious older adults reminds them why they love to be in a classroom. Most OLLIs have "rock star" instructors; people say they would take their classes if they were reading the phone book. Through interviews with great instructors, we will develop an understanding of the qualities of great OLLI teaching. We will also examine ways to adapt teaching for new audiences and new technology. What are the ingredients for good teaching and how can we make sure we continue to adapt to new tastes?	Catherine Frank
10:15 – 10:30	Break
10:30 – 11:45	Facilitated Discussion of the Ingredients in the Secret Sauce for Great OLLI Teaching	Cindy Berryman-Fink
11:45 – 12:45	Lunch
12:45 – 1:45	No more "Death by PowerPoint!" Presenters: Judith Bliss and Marty Stickle  Slides (Google, PowerPoint, Keynote) are NOT a requirement for effective teaching. Should you use them? How should you use them? Where in the presentation should you use them? In this session you'll learn how make these decisions. If you decide to use slides it will help you to create dynamic, invigorating slides and use them effectively.	Judith Bliss Marty Stickle
