

OLLI Members Help Fight Hunger in Asheville (continued)

The residents' low income and limited mobility constrain their ability to get the food they need when they need it. The OLLI-Asheville Terrace-MANNA partnership helps to bridge that gap. Every two weeks, volunteers from OLLI and Asheville Terrace Apartments pick up food at the MANNA Foodbank and distribute it to the residents.

You can help support this effort by dropping your change into the OLLI-ATA-MANNA change jar that is now sitting near the check-out at the Reuter Café. While a limited range of food (e.g. seasonally available fruits and vegetables) is available for free at MANNA, many other foods carry a small charge. Your donations to the change jar greatly expand the range and quantity of food we can offer to our fellow seniors. Your change can make a big difference, so please drop it in the jar.

OLLI members interested in participating as volunteers in this effort can contact Kathleen Mainardi (kkmainardi@gmail.com). For information on further ways to support this effort, please contact Suseela Steers, Asheville Terrace Apartments Food Program Coordinator, ssteers@live.com
