

Seeking Assistance

A small group of volunteers is making progress on a successor online forum to OLLITalk. Can you help us?

We are looking for

1. Volunteer moderators who are:
 - Committed to building our OLLI community
 - Computer literate – for example: you posted messages to the old OLLITalk site; you know how to copy and paste elements in a document; you are comfortable using multiple tabs on a PC or Mac; you are familiar with Gmail
 - Comfortable writing responses
 - Available an hour a day for a few days/week
2. An expert in free googlegroups who can advise us on what we can and cannot do in google groups.
3. Someone to lead our membership drive efforts. Are you
 - Committed to building community
 - Organized, a quick learner and a self-starter
 - Experienced with online forums, ideally OLLITalk
 - Computer literate – as described above in volunteer moderators
 - Available several hours/week, especially over the next month or two

If any of these describe you, please contact us at OLLIChatAvl@gmail.com, providing your phone number and which role interests you. We'll call you back to fill in details.
