

Do you believe that organics are a path to sustainability. Do you enjoy volunteering with organizations in line with your values? Organic Growers School could be just what you're looking for!

We have a variety of volunteer offerings year round and spend a good bit of time finding the right match for each task or project. This ensures that you will enjoy your experience with us.

Work/trades are the most popular opportunity among our volunteers because the return you get on your investment is immediate. Workshops, conferences and tabling events are a fantastic way to network and learn. If you enjoy working events simply to meet people and talk about organics, we also have opportunities for events that are already free of charge to everyone.

Harder-to-fill positions are those that support the work of Organic Growers School in less obvious but very critical ways. Some examples might be:

- Data entry
- Computer research to create lists of resources
- Promotion submissions to media
- Social media sharing
- Website development tasks

Some of these can easily be done while watching a movie, others are more complicated, and others are less complicated than they look! And again, we have a critical need for these services in order to continue to offer affordable educational opportunities and grow as an organization.

Volunteer work is enriching and life affirming. If you have an interest, please complete our online application at <http://organicgrowersschool.org/get-involved/>. Contact us at outreach@organicgrowersschool.org for additional information. Thank you for your interest in OGS!
