Mike Ross was born in Detroit and grew up in Cleveland. After completing a PhD in English Language and Literature at the University of Michigan, he spent 30 years in Upstate New York, working in public relations and then running his own freelance writing business.

He is the author of two histories, one of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, the other of Albany Academy. He has taught at the University of Michigan, Empire State College, Pace University, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, and, most recently, at the OLLI.

His poems have appeared in Poet Lore, Chiron Review, The Evansville Review, Potomac Review, Asheville Poetry Review, and The Great Smokies Review. His first book of poems, Small Engine Repair, was published in 2015 by Finishing Line Press. Copies of the book will be available for sale after the reading.
