

Hearing the Word:

And Learning it By Heart

Virginia Lutheran Men in Mission Gathering

In Deuteronomy, we are instructed by the LORD to write the Word on our hearts and to talk about it when we are at home and when we are away, and to teach it to our children. If we are to talk and teach such things, then we can always learn more. Together we will immerse ourselves in the biblical story as Pastor Carr shares some parables and other stories with us. We will also have the chance to learn at least one biblical story by heart, allowing God's Word to get under our skin and work on us in a deeper way as we internalize it and carry it home!

• Bible Study • Small Group Discussions • Personal Growth through Presentations and Discussions • Fellowship • Great Atmosphere and Food

Pastor Chris Carr has been serving in the Virginia Synod for 15 years. His first call was Salem Evangelical Lutheran Church in Mount Sidney. For the past 4 years he has served at Christ The King Lutheran Church in Richmond. A native buckeye from Dayton, Ohio, he joined the Navy to see the world and mostly saw the Naval Base in Norfolk and the inside of a nuclear aircraft carrier! After the US Navy he graduated from William and Mary, where he discerned the call to ministry and met his future wife.

He resides in Midlothian, Virginia with his wife Jennifer and daughter Susanna, and a scaredy cat named Casanova. In addition to biblical storytelling he enjoys singing, science fiction, gardening and home repair projects.
