

Red mark is the halfway mark. From here cyclists will be able to go into the park to use the washrooms, refill with water and take a break as needed. Cyclists will follow the purple to get back to the route, and take the route back.