

HEALTHY EATING

Greenville County will be participating with Spartanburg and Anderson Counties in an upstate regional assessment project (funded through a USDA Grant) that explores needed changes in policy, infrastructure, and support that would enhance our current food system. LWG is helping to support these efforts by connecting and convening partners to update an initial food system's assessment that was complete back in 2012.

We are looking for ways that Park Hop and BLTs can collaborate in the future to increase utilization of these community resources. Currently, there are 7 BLTs throughout Greenville County.
