

CLARKSBURG MISSION

Beyond Comprehension

The Clarksburg Mission is a place that never stops. Every day, we pour our efforts into changing lives and helping our residents heal and become the people they were meant to be, before things like addiction and hurt took over. Here, our residents find hope, discover faith, and learn how to be better than they were. The road may not be easy, but it is a road they can follow.

The scale of this job is immense, and we cannot do it alone. Volunteers join us here, pulling alongside our residents in classes, in chapel, in the kitchen, in renovation, and in countless other areas. We recently spoke to one volunteer, Rob ?, and asked about his experiences with our residents.

What made you want to volunteer at the Mission?

“After prayer and much thought, my heart was led there with the assistance of Pastor Joel Boggess. I’ve seen so many special people who battle addiction while seeking God in their own restorative process. To center one’s self around recovery is to go far beyond the beginning of their addiction. It takes vulnerability, and that's why I love to serve and disciple those who desire to know God in a deeper way."

What do you enjoy most about volunteering at the Mission?

"The friendships that I have made with the residents and the Mission leadership team are invaluable. The way that I see the residents seeking to know God is profoundly the reason why I desire to serve. My devotion time there as well as assisting Justin in teaching the Mission Recovery Program helps me beyond measure. I think the residents have poured more into me through their journeys than I have them. I have seen restoration through God's divine love as well as an understanding of the Gospel within the residents."

What keeps bringing you back as a volunteer?

"What keeps me coming back is beyond comprehension. I've seen relationships restored. I've seen the bondage of addiction broken. I've watched the entire process of God's inherent value grow within the resident's life. They understand how to pursue God, while living an obedient and repentant life all for the glory of Jesus."

Rob and all of our volunteers get to take part in this amazing journey alongside our residents, growing and learning together. In this, they follow Acts 20:35, "And remember the words of the Lord Jesus, that He said, 'It is more blessed to give than to receive.'"

The Clarksburg Mission is always willing to accept new volunteers. To join us in our work, just call 304-476-3169 and speak to Roger, our Volunteer Coordinator. He can answer your questions, determine how you can help, and get you connected with our staff and our residents to perform this much needed work. Whether you join our teachers, prepare meals, speak at chapel, or any of the many other needs the Mission has, Roger can get you, your family, your church group, or any gathering prepared to join our Mission family.

The Clarksburg Mission hopes to see you soon and we appreciate your support, whether through volunteering, player, or financial support. Thank you for helping us be the light in the lives of all the people we serve. May God bless you.
