Xenex Enterprises Inc.
 The Leader in Canadian e-Bonding

Mary-Jane Jarvis
Mary-Jane.Jarvis@xenex.ca

Xenex Enterprises Inc. is a Technology Company. We build software to improve business productivity. Our mission “to boldly pursue the ultimate in business innovation” informs our philosophy and defines our approach.

Xenex is a Canadian owned business, established in 1983. With 36 years of experience, we’ve introduced innovative business solutions to many companies across a wide variety of industries including Financial Services, Government Agencies, Manufacturing and Retail.

A current focus is the Surety Industry. As electronic tendering replaces traditional paper-based tendering, owners, brokers and contractors need a reliable, fast and easy way to produce electronic bonds. Our solution, SignatureMaster™, leverages advanced technologies to enable document signing, sealing and verification electronically using all types of mobile, handheld and desktop computing devices. The benefits of reduced costs, saved time and increased productivity are readily available to companies of all sizes. We have provided over 30,000 e-bond documents to date.
