If the ax is dull,
And one does not sharpen the edge,
Then he must use more strength;
But wisdom brings success.

Ecclesiastes 10:10

"It is not the critic who counts; not the man who points out how the strong man stumbles, or where the doer of deeds could have done them better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena, whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood; who strives valiantly; who errs, who comes short again and again, because there is no effort without error and shortcoming; but who does actually strive to do the deeds; who knows great enthusiasms, the great devotions; who spends himself in a worthy cause; who at the best knows in the end the triumph of high achievement, and who at the worst, if he fails, at least fails while daring greatly, so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who neither know victory nor defeat."

Teddy Roosevelt

Signs of Advancing Dullness

- A tendency towards superficiality
- Unresolved tension in key relationships
- No longer having time for celebration and ritual
- A loss of gratitude
- A vague, chronic sense of guilt
- Failure to take risks

I went by the field of the lazy man, And by the vineyard of the man devoid of understanding; <sup>31</sup> And there it was, all overgrown with thorns; Its surface was covered with nettles; Its stone wall was broken down. <sup>32</sup> When I saw it, I considered it well; I looked on it and received instruction: <sup>33</sup> A little sleep, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to rest.

Proverbs 24:30-33
