Goals: Part-time interim rabbi

Professional Experience:

Adath Jeshurun Congregation, Elkins Park, Pennsylvania – August 2018-present

Part-time interim rabbi serving a 425 member congregation. Assured full rabbinic coverage. Close connections with the religious and pre-school and confirmation class students. Helped to create a more collaborative community by engaging and empowering both the professional staff and lay leadership, reassuring the congregational community of a smooth transition to a full-time rabbi. Provided stability and support while deeply involved in the search for a new rabbi and helping to shepherd the final stages of the AJ New Way Forward recommendations. Offered ongoing adult education programs as an outreach to members and member families inside and outside of the synagogue.

Congregation Habonim, New York, New York – September 2016-July 2017

Full-time interim rabbi serving a nearly 300-family member congregation. Provided full rabbinic coverage including adult education, weekly e-mail blasts with pre-Shabbat divrei Torah, pastoral care. Close connections with the religious and nursery schools. Offered stability and support during a successful rabbinic search process. Taught in ongoing adult education programs that actively involved members and member families.

Congregation Beth Israel, Greenville, South Carolina – September 2015 to June 30, 2016

Part-time interim rabbi serving a 100-family member congregation celebrating its centennial year.

Engaged actively with the religious school, teaching and connecting with children and their families; enabled stability and support; integral involvement in a successful rabbinic search process. Established ongoing adult education programs that actively involved members and member families.

Greenburgh Hebrew Center, Dobbs Ferry, New York – 1984 to July 1, 2015

Spiritual leader of a 325-family suburban congregation strongly committed to outreach, inreach, and the enfolding of a community in the observance and celebration of Shabbat, holy days and life cycle events. Now Rabbi Emeritus
