

Thanks to generous support from BB&T | now Truist, a limited number of scholarships for North Carolina community action agencies allows members of your staff and board to attend for free the 2020 Conference for North Carolina Nonprofits, Rebuilding for Resiliency, hosted by the North Carolina Center for Nonprofits.

With a year as unexpected as 2020 and nonprofits' programs and operations moving online, join nonprofit colleagues from across the state on December 8-10 for three days of engaging speakers, timely topics and networking to rebuild and enhance our resiliency. Being virtual, the conference is conveniently located wherever you call your home office these days.

REGISTER

(select 'Grantee' and 'BB&T')

Free registrations are limited to one from each organization.

Conference Features

Pre-Conference Workshops	2020 Legal Update for NC Nonprofits delves into the most current legal compliance and policy issues that affect nonprofits. Nonprofit Financial Resilience: Understanding "Full Cost" and Dialogue on Post-COVID Recovery explores the concept of asking for and funding full costs for nonprofit organizations.
Speakers	Keynote speakers Dr. S. Atyia Martin , CEO & Founder of All Aces, Inc. and Adrienne Cole , President & CEO of the Greater Raleigh Chamber of Commerce, and session speakers offer expertise and perspectives from the nonprofit, government and private sectors, rural and urban communities, small, medium and large organizations, and diverse roles and jobs.
Sessions	Sixteen sessions cover everything from onboarding and cultivating board champions, continuity planning, and workplace equity and inclusion to fundraising, community engagement, storytelling for advocacy, and emotional intelligence at work.
Networking	Participants can connect with colleagues during the Networking Reception and laptop lunches, and in the break rooms and Nonprofit Exhibit Hall .
Access	Workshops and sessions will be hosted in Zoom. Session materials, handouts, and recordings will be available online for registered participants.
Continuing Education	Workshops and sessions are eligible for CLE, CPE, CFRE, and Duke University Nonprofit Management Program credit hours (pending approval).

Questions? Check out the conference FAQs or contact Caroline McDowell, Marketing & Communications Manager at North Carolina Center for Nonprofits.

Thanks to the 2020 Conference Presenting Sponsor

#20NCNPC #RebuildingResiliency #NCNPconference