On the Journey

Yours on the Journey of Lent: A Message from Rev. Diane

Dear Friends,

For early Christians, the origin of Lent was an invitation to leave an old life behind and prepare for a new way of living. It meant stepping away from corrupt power, scarcity mentality, and empty rituals in order to live a more expansive and full life of faith. “Full to the Brim” is an invitation to an expanding perspective; to pour out grace wherever it is needed. When we allow ourselves to be filled to the brim with God’s lavish love, that love spills over. Like water, it flows beyond us and touches everything in its path. “Full to the Brim” reminds us to live fully as we pursue justice and hope, or express grief and gratitude. This Lent, let us trust fully that we belong to God, and discover the expansive life God dreams for all of us.

Participate in one or all of our SCC Lenten offerings this season. Pick up a devotional booklet or set of daily devotional cards as a guide for this expansive season.

Let us come together and be filled to the brim with God's love!

Blessings on the Journey,

Diane

Rev. Diane Peterson Seaborn, Senior Minister, SCC

Envisioning God's Future for SCC

February 2025 Update

Greetings Church!

We, as a Congregation, have begun a process to consider our "Vision" for SCC:

What is our role at SCC in doing the work of God within our congregation and the larger community in which we live?

The concept of developing a Vision for SCC was first discussed by Rev. Diane in January 2024 with the Governing Board. Rev. Paul Nickerson, who assists other churches with developing their vision, attended the Governing Board meeting in April 2024 over Zoom to detail the steps of such a visioning process. There was enthusiastic support from the Board members. Diane then asked Jan Castle, Sue Irvine, Chris McClean, Paul Schur, Ellen Smith and Wes Lang-Rodean to become members of the Vision Team. Wes discerned that, because of his work as Governing Board Chair, he preferred being kept informed rather than being a member of the Team

The SCC Vision Team will provide regular updates along the Visioning journey.

To date this is what has occurred:

December 2024

The Vision Team gathered for an initial meeting with Rev. Paul Nickerson over Zoom. Rev. Paul helped detail the initial steps onto a visioning journey.

January/February 2025

*On Sunday January 12th, Rev. Paul visited SCC. He preached about a "breath-taking vision" and then stayed afterward to share more about beginning the visioning journey together. Many people stayed to learn, including our online community on Zoom. The feedback about Rev. Paul's visit was very positive!

*The Vision Team met with Rev. Paul via zoom on 2/4/25 to discuss next steps.

*Lynn Brown, Cass Crewdson, Janis Hoyle, and Mike Lake agreed to become our Prayer Team. They will assist the Vision Team and Congregation with prayer as we move through the visioning process.

Save-the-Date! Please plan to join us for an All-Church Shared Potluck Meal following worship on Sunday, March 23, 2025. Together we will have an opportunity to shake things up a bit as we use some scripture verses to begin our congregational vision discussion. Stay tuned for more details!

*The SCC Vision Team will meet twice a month, once with Rev. Paul to check-in, and once on our own for ongoing planning.

As the visioning process moves forward, please consider how our vision will complement our SCC Mission: “We share in God’s love by growing in faith, courageously seeking justice, and generously caring for all people.”

Blessings,

Your Vision Team:

Jan Castle, Sue Irvine, Chris McLean, Paul Schur, Ellen Smith and Rev. Diane Seaborn

Worship Service 10am (Meeting House)

Palm branches in hand, we join a procession begun centuries ago in Jerusalem, as part of a long line of people in need of God's saving grace. We rejoice as Christ comes to open the gates of justice and bring heaven's peace. All who wish are invited to gather in the Parish House Courtyard before the service to receive palms and process into worship. As we come to the end of our worship service, we turn toward Christ's passion and Maundy Thursday.

Evening Worship 7:30pm (Meeting House)

As Christians, we tell this story; we are part of this story, and it is part of us. We share the bread and cup of communion, we experience receding light and growing shadows, we hear the Word, we are moved through sacred music and shared voices, and we remember the Passion of Christ. Come into this holy night of our life together as disciples of Christ.

Good Friday, April 18, 2025

Silent Reflection 12-1pm (Chapel)

Step away from the world for a little while. Come into our Chapel. Rev. Diane will be present for a shared prayer, if you so wish.

Light a candle, or sit in silent reflection. As Christians, we know that Jesus' death was not the end of the story. It was not the end of God's love. A final prayer will be offered at 1pm. All lighted candles will then be extinguished; however, you are welcome to remain in the Chapel as long as you wish.

Music Ministry

Chapel Organ Restoration is Complete!

As you may—or may not—know, the Waggoner Chapel has an organ, not on the scale of the Meeting House organ, but a substantial instrument nonetheless, with two keyboards, several ranks of pipes, a “swell” chamber (with shutters that open and close to control the volume), and a pedal division. The organ is housed in a chamber located at the back of the chapel. The console is located up front, to the right of the beautiful “River of Life” window.

This organ was used frequently in the past but was unplayable for a long time owing to an infestation of mice who severely damaged the organ’s wind reservoirs by gnawing through the fabric that allows them to expand and contract. The primary focus of the restoration project was to repair these reservoirs.

We’re delighted to report that the Waggoner organ is playing once again, more beautifully than ever.

The organ was designed and built by John Waggoner, son of Rev. Dr. J. Garland Waggoner, the former SCC pastor for whom the chapel is named, and an experienced organ builder. Chapel and organ were both completed in 1960 and dedicated in 1962. The organ is a well-crafted instrument and was cleverly constructed to fit the limited space available. This created some unexpected challenges when it came to restoring it. Much of it was squeezed in. This made the removal of large components, like the reservoirs, a real trick.

What was squeezed in had to be squeezed out. The reservoirs in the rear of the chamber could only be accessed by climbing up and through the front of the instrument, high above the pews. That meant removing lots of pipes and the swell shades. Detaching the reservoirs was no easy feat. Thanks to the experience and technical expertise of our organ technicians from Messrs. Czelusniak et Dugal, Inc., these challenges were overcome. Last November, the reservoirs were taken to their workshop for reconditioning.

The next challenge was to replace them. Everything had to go back in the way it came out. Once the reservoirs and other components were pieced back together, swell shades and pipes were reinserted. It was time to turn the blower on and fire the instrument up.

Would all the pipes sound? Amazingly, most did. Those that didn’t required some detective work to identify the problem and find a solution. One difference between the Meeting House and the Chapel organs is that, in the Meeting House, the connection between the keys and the pipes is mechanical.

They are directly linked by thin wooden slats called “trackers”. If something is broken, you can see it. In the chapel, the connection is more complicated. Pressing a key sends an electrical signal that activates a magnetic relay. This kind of action is called electropneumatic. It allows for greater distance between the console and the pipes, but it also means that, when a pipe fails to sound, it can be harder to find the cause. While there were a few blocked pipes, the main culprit was... the mice, who had nested in some unexpected places and damaged several relays. Here again, our resourceful technicians came up with creative solutions—and spare parts from their workshop—and every pipe was sounding again.

Did they sound... good? As part of this project, the organ received a thorough tuning, which was long overdue. If you thought tuning a piano required patience, try an organ! Each key can play multiple pipes. These pipes are placed in rows or “ranks” and organized (no pun intended) into what are called “stops.” For each key on the organ, all the pipes playable by that key need to be tuned! Even a small organ has many more pipes than there are keys on the keyboard. Tuning is an art and takes time.

Different kinds of pipes produce different kinds of sounds. They can “speak” the way a flute does, by a vibrating column of air, or the way an oboe does, by a vibrating reed. Some are made of metal and tend to produce a fuller sound; some are made of wood and tend to produce a softer sound. Some stops, called “mixtures”, have more than one pipe per key, so you hear two or more notes at once.

You can see several different kinds of pipes just by looking up at the chapel organ: metal and wood, some open at the top and some capped. There is a mixture there, too. These are some of the smallest pipes in the organ, measuring just a few inches. But there are more pipes than you can see from down below. Behind the swell shades are the reed pipes, more flute stops, and the largest pipes, which belong to the pedal division. These pipes are 8 feet long. So how can they fit up there? Answer: they are placed sideways!

The chapel organ is a relatively small instrument, but it has many virtues, including its versatility and sound. It speaks clearly—even when it speaks softly—with a wide range of colors, textures, and moods. When you hear it, you’ll find that it has an enlivening presence in the room, whether it is sounding on its own, accompanying singers, or leading a congregation in song. Organ and chapel together create a lovely space to support and enhance new dimensions of worship at SCC. Plans are already underway for vesper services and beyond.

Back it goes!

A Note of Gratitude!

It takes many hands to bring a project to a successful conclusion. Many thanks are due! Duffy Brookes and Dave Jordan helped shepherd the funding needs through approval by the Governing Board in 2022. With funds from Building and Grounds, private individuals and off-budget funds designated for music, the necessary goal was achieved. Your support and due diligence vetting proposals and readying the space was vital to the success of this endeavor. Thank you!

The very unpleasant task of removing decades of mouse detritus was principally done by Bob Berube, Antonio, Duffy, Christopher Dustin, and Dana Gregus stood by to assist in removing and then replacing organ parts. They were always on hand when needed. We couldn't have done it without you! Christopher Dustin brought it to life through pictures and articles.

We are most grateful to the firm of Messrs. Czelusniak et Dugal, Inc. of Northampton, MA for their dedication to the restoration of the instrument and for their depth of knowledge pertaining to this type of instrument. Bill Czelusniak (President), Richard M. Frary, Jr. (Project Manager), Jon Van Houten, Gerard McGovern and Nicholas Reid-Lastowski all contributed their expertise to the project.

Further research through the Organ Historical Society is being undertaken by Mr. Czelusniak to find out more about John Waggoner who built the organ. If you know of any of the family's whereabouts, please let us know.

With utmost gratitude to the above-named,

Trisha Snyder

An Essay by Ellen Bradley

According to the calendar, it's almost March, but the snow and ice that remain tell a different story!

As I was gingerly easing my way down our very icy steps yesterday, suddenly the children's game, Operation, popped into my mind.

The game board was a hapless patient, Cavity Sam, who looked like Moe in the Three Stooges with a slicked down center part, laying supine on the game board "operating table". He had a number of dreadful things wrong with him. And it was up to the "surgeons", the kids playing the game, to make him well again by removing the offending bones and body parts with a large pair of tweezers without having the tweezer touch the side, otherwise you got the dreaded buzz from his red bulbous nose.

Cavity Sam suffered from such ailments as writer's cramp, butterflies in his stomach, charley horse, a wrenched ankle, water on the knee (shaped like a bucket!), and more. The worst one was the anklebone connected to the knee bone with a rubber band that was nearly impossible to disconnect without activating the alarm. Steadiness was needed, not an easy feat with siblings who kept trying to make your hand move!

It occurred to me, that now as an older adult, I seem to have developed many of these ailments myself, and even a few more thrown in for good measure. It was all very funny way back then but now, many days I do feel like poor Cavity Sam!

This was made even more apparent when I noticed that days after our last snowfall, the snow in our yard was as pristine as the day it fell. There was a time, not all that long ago, when any snowfall would soon be marred with footprints, paw prints, snowmen, snow angels, as well as criss-crossed with snowmobile and cross country ski tracks. Many signs of lots of activity out in the snow. What happened?

I'm blaming "Operation". After all, I don't want to disconnect the anklebone to the knee bone or break that funny bone or spare rib. I have to prevent myself from getting those Charley horses or a water on the knee flare up! Can you blame me for now preferring to watch the snow fall from the inside, rather than me fall on the outside? But, all is not lost. I can always make a wish on the wishbone, for the better weather of spring to arrive soon!

Congratulations EO Smith/Tolland Bucks!!

The Bucks have clenched the Regular Conference Champion title. They have one more regular season game on Saturday March 1st against Hall here in UConn. The game vs. Hall is also their Senior Night. They beat Hall ending Hall's winning streak the last time they met. They will play for the CCC Championship early March and then compete in the State finals. Overall they are 19-1-1, 1st in their conference and 4th in the state. This is #17 Gerry Duval's senior year, wrapping up 10 years of playing! He played in JV his freshmen year after taking a year off because of COVID, that year the Bucks Varsity team won the CCC Championship.

His Sophomore year he played JV and Varsity, received his first letter and received the Mike Hastillo Father-Soldier-Team sticker and #17 jersey.

What an incredible honor that was, as his father and I both went to school with Mike and his father grew up with him in Ashford.

His Junior year the Bucks moved from playing at the Mark Freitas Ice forum to the Toscano Family Ice forum! The Varsity team was 16-4-0 overall, they made it to the finals only to be knocked out by Conard.

This year, Gerry was given the honor of Alternate Captain, they beat Conard both games, and are on track to have an incredible finish.

Gerry spent his Sunday mornings last year helping to coach for the learn-to-play program, participating in the Pucks with Bucks Program working with the CT Jr. Husky Mites all 4 years, as well as helping with the annual Jacob Roger Poulin 3v3 fundraiser for the last 3 years. He now spends his Sunday mornings working at Gansett Wraps!!

Building and Grounds

There's good and bad news about the missing Peace Pole: It's not missing!

It is currently in Room 106 after having been broken off by an off-course (way off-course) plow. UConn has offered to remount it in cement when the ground thaws. If only it was that simple. The pole snapped off at the point where it entered the cement.

Unfortunately, that's exactly where the writing of the different languages begins. There is no extra wood to be placed in the new cement. We have about two months to devise a way to extend the pole so that it can be securely replanted. This is the second Peace Pole that had replaced the original in 2024.

Caring Ministries

Hi! As the new Caring Ministries Coordinator, I am grateful for the many ways people actively care for one another here at SCC, and I am humbled yet excited to be part of it! By way of introduction, I am a nurse and I've been teaching nursing and other health students for several years now, currently at Eastern Connecticut State University. A year and a half ago I moved to Ashford with Jim, my spouse, and Patrick, my oldest son (the younger one lives in central PA), along with our two dogs. We started attending SCC soon thereafter and joined the church last summer.

I'm learning how best I can support the many Caring Ministries of SCC, so I'd like to connect with you if:

You would like a card, a meal, a home visit, or prayers for any reason- please reach out to me or Pastor Diane.

You are (or were) involved with a Caring Ministry- I'd like to get to know you and your role better.

Please call me at 315-534-4717 or email me at elliemaetuvesmith@gmail.com

Policy change for Caring Ministries Description

At the January 21, 2025 Governing Board meeting, it was voted on to remove the clause on Transportation from the Caring Ministries position description. This clause stated- "Transportation: transporting congregants who need assistance getting to worship, special events at SCC, medical appointments, etc."

The rationale for this removal was due to liability and safety concerns. Congregants who choose to provide rides may continue to do so at their own discretion. Congregants seeking transportation will need to arrange their own rides. SCC is no longer able to schedule/provide transportation services.

Respectfully submitted from Carolyn Holmy 2024 Leadership Discernment Chair

Edwina Whitney Library News

Mark Roy contributed his time and love to many organizations and we are especially reminded of the many articles he contributed concerning the history of this Land Grant University that so many of us call home, call ourselves alumni, instructors and yes, we can admit to being sports fans. We do have a copy of his history of the university in picture format and it is available for borrowing and also, enjoying when you need a few quiet moments when you are at SCC.

Please feel free to have a staff member admit you to the library if you are on "off hours" of the library being open. We will miss his quiet, generous and helpful manner greatly in the many ways he served SCC.

Family Room News

Do you love being around children? If you do, we have the perfect opportunity for you. We are looking for 3-4 individuals to staff the family room one Sunday per month. It involves engaging with 2-3 bright little minds and keeping them busy for an hour. Our family room has an abundance of toys, books, paper and crayons. We can even provide a craft if you'd like. Please give it a try, you'll definitely find it rewarding. Contact Lois at ldemerjian@gmail.com for further information.

With three and a half weeks left until Spring begins, activities through the Outreach Ministries are beginning to pick up. We had a quiet January and February without too much happening. We will begin making donations from our budget to the local agencies and organizations that we support during the month of March. We will be involved in a couple of activities also in the next few months. More information about getting involved will be available soon.

Organization donations and Activity dates:

Food Share Walk Against Hunger April 26, 2025

Watch for information in weekly emails regarding events.

Although we can support many organizations with donations from the budget, we have to sometimes make hard decisions of contributing to some organizations and not others. If you are doing a fundraising event, please consult with Outreach (Jan Hoyle, Carolyn Holmy) for a list of organizations that could benefit from the event.

Thank you for your generosity and support.

Service Sewing

The Sewing Group is currently working on completing their school bags and health kits before their distribution in the early spring. As always, SCC has been generous with donations, but currently there are a few necessary items that are still needed. Most importantly, more 3 ringed, 70 ct. spiral notebooks are required for the school bags as well as toothbrushes and face cloths for the health bags.

There is a box in the lounge for the drop-off of any donated items. Any help that can be provided is appreciated.

Lunch and Listen—Time Rescheduled to Friday, March 7th

Due to weather conditions and other circumstances, the next Lunch and Listen gathering will be Friday, March 7th, at 12:30 at Oyama Restaurant

200 Merrow Rd. Tolland (In the center of the Plaza on the left before Big Y... along 195)

Confirm that you can come that day by contacting Kathy Lindner, 201 723 0458 or kathyartist72@gmail.com.

We will hear some thoughts from the book by Dr. Colin Zhu, Thrive Medicine on "doing and not doing." Then members have a chance to share as others listen.

Food Pantry Highlights

The Food Pantry, with the encouragement of Malta Bailey, and grant writing skills of Annetta Miller and Jan Castle, has applied for a grant through Altrusa International, asking for funds to provide hygiene products for the women and girls of our pantry. We have not heard yet if we have received this grant, but in the process we have partnered with Altrusa and Days for Girls which is a nonprofit that provides sustainable hygiene products for areas of the world with no waste disposal systems. They will provide us with disposable supplies for 10 women before we receive the results of our grant. We also were able to connect Days for Girls with a village school in Liberia that has just opened and serves three villages of children that have never had a school experience.

The Connecticut Foodshare Walk Against Hunger will be held on Saturday, April 26 at the Dunkin Park in Hartford. If you wish to join SCC Food Pantry's team, contact Jan Hoyle or Caroly Holmy. Watch for information in our weekly emails on how you can support our team and our pantry, Five UConn students taking URBN 1300, Exploring Your Community, are volunteering 20 hours each this semester in our pantry. At the end of their experience with us, they will make a presentation to the class. We thank Malachi, Dylan, Alec, Baylee, and Adrianna for being responsible workers who are making a big difference in the pantry.

February was “SOUPER-BOWL” month at the SCC Pantry. We asked you to donate canned soup. The congregation showed our generosity by contributing more than 150 cans of soup. This translates directly to 150 hot meals for our guests. Thank you!

Just for fun, we gave you the opportunity to support your favorite team in the Super Bowl by contributing soup with your team’s color on the label of the can: Red for the Chiefs, Green for the Eagles, and Blue for the local favorites like the Patriots and Giants. The Chiefs ran away with 86 red cans. Our runners up were the Patriots and Giants with 51 blues cans, while the Super Bowl victors, the Eagles, rounded out the bottom with 19 green cans.

Our generosity far exceeds our skill at predicting the outcome of sporting events—as it should be! We are all winners in the SOUPER BOWL!

Worship Ministry

After a busy fall and Advent season, we are finding a bit of calm as we await the start of Lent.

Soon the candles will be removed from the windows of the meetinghouse, the wreaths from the outer doors and we will begin our Lenten journey with Ash Wednesday and end with our joyous celebration on Easter Sunday. Soon palms will be ordered for our observance of Palm Sunday. Be on the lookout for our order forms for Easter flowers that will be available very soon. Last year we had 57 potted flowers ordered by the congregation and as a result we were able to prepare a gorgeous display in the chancel for Easter Sunday. We hope to count on you again for your orders.

In our roles as Worship Coordinators, Laurie and I work with our active deacons to schedule communion servers and make sure we have all the necessary elements needed for the monthly sacrament of communion. Along with other members of our congregation, deacons are also called upon to deliver flowers, provide visitations and serve as ushers and point people for special and memorial services.

As the church seasons move along, Laurie and I along with Katie, our office administrator, schedule Sunday Servers. A Sunday worship service includes many helpers such as ushers, liturgist, greeter, and welcome table host. We appreciate and greatly rely on the many volunteers that we have for these roles, but we can always use more. If you are interested in learning more about serving in any of these capacities, please let Katie, Laurie or Jamie know. We are having a brief training session for these various roles on Sunday March 30th, in the narthex, directly after our church service.

Many thanks to all of you who volunteer your time and talents to help with all of the supporting roles that are needed to create our sacred and meaningful services. Laurie and I could not accomplish all that we do without you.

C.A.F.E Storrs

C.A.F.E. Storrs, led by Rev. Mike Lake. We are studying the book "The God We Never Knew" by Marcus J. Borg. Everyone is welcome to join with us, in person in the Parish House library or on Zoom from 10:30 a.m. to noon every Wednesday.

"In a compelling, readable way, Borg leads us from the distant, authoritarian God of our childhood to an equally powerful, dynamic adult image of God—"the beyond in our midst," the life spirit that is within us and all around us—that reconciles faith with science, history, critical thinking, and religious pluralism."

Come and join the discussion!
