Partnership Highlight

MSJ/VJ + CACI

CACI: Who We Are & Our Mission

CACI is a Fortune 500 national security company headquartered in Reston, VA, with 27,000 employees across 140 offices worldwide.

Our mission is to deliver expertise and technology for the most critical U.S. national security missions, supporting agencies such as the Department of War, Homeland Security, and the Intelligence Community.

Nearly 40% of our workforce consists of veterans, military spouses, and National Guard/Reserve. CACI's culture is shaped by volunteerism, remembrance, and support for deployed employees, including annual projects that provide outreach to staff stationed overseas.

Our Commitment to the Military Community

CACI has a dedicated military advocacy team that brings nearly 30 years of military service and 40 years of CACI experience to provide one-on-one assistance and advocacy for transitioning service members, veterans, and military spouses seeking career opportunities at CACI.

Additionally, CACI is proud to serve as an active Department of War-approved SkillBridge Internship partner, sponsoring active-duty service members in transition by integrating them into a corporate work environment and exposing them to valuable business experience prior to military separation.

Partnership Story

Our partnership with VetJobs is more than a collaboration—it is a shared commitment to expanding opportunities for transitioning service members, veterans, and military spouses.

Together, we connect military talent with meaningful career opportunities, leveraging VetJobs' dedicated Recruiter Connect Specialists to guide candidates through the application process ensuring their résumé receives visibility.

CACI offers meaningful career opportunities supporting national security customers in the fields software/engineering, IT, intelligence, logistics, and more, with positions available nationwide and abroad.

A Partnership Founded on Creating Meaningful Impact

VetJobs + CACI Hire Testimonial

"My experience with VetJobs has been incredibly valuable throughout my transition back into full-time employment this past year.

Kimberly Roberts, Jenna Weakly, and the VetJobs team provided consistent support, encouragement, and advocacy while helping connect my experience and career goals with opportunities that were a strong fit.

I was drawn to CACI because the ISSO role closely aligns with my background in information assurance, RMF, cybersecurity compliance, and supporting the federal/DoD mission.

As an Army veteran, one of the biggest lessons I would share with fellow veterans is to remain persistent and intentional throughout the job search. Continue investing in yourself, strengthen your skills, use the resources available to the military and veteran community, and build relationships with people who are willing to advocate for you.

The right opportunity may take time, but preparation, persistence, and a strong support network can make a meaningful difference."
