WRITTEN BY REGINA LEVALLEY, SR. DIRECTOR OF DEVELOPMENT AND DONOR RELATIONS

Another Successful Event!

On October 2nd at the University of North Florida, transitioning Service Members, Veterans, National Guard and Reserve members, and military spouses from across Northeast Florida and South Georgia were invited to connect with employers and community resources at the TriBase Job Fair, hosted by NAS Jacksonville Fleet and Family Support. More than 100 employers and resource organizations were on hand, among them Boeing, Northrop Grumman, Ingalls Shipbuilding, Mayo Clinic, Amazon, the FBI, the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office, Fleet Readiness Center Southeast, Home Builders Institute, and CareerSource Northeast Florida.

VetJobs and Military Spouse Jobs were represented by Regina LeValley and Katherine DeBeer, who spoke with job seekers about how our organizations support military-connected candidates at no cost, from resume development and interview preparation through placement and long-term career progression. The team also connected with fellow service providers and training partners on the floor, opening conversations that will extend our reach in the Jacksonville area well beyond the event itself.

Special thanks to NAS Jacksonville Fleet and Family Support and the University of North Florida for hosting, and for bringing this many employers and resources together in one place for our military community.
