

SHAUN BROEKER

Shaun Broecker is a partner at Thompson Coburn LLP in St. Louis. As a litigator, Shaun has spent over a decade representing businesses in state and federal courts. His litigation practice focuses on disputes involving breach of contract, business torts, and fraud, with an emphasis on industries such as finance, agriculture, real estate, and, increasingly, defense and aerospace.

Shaun's growing focus on defense and aerospace extends outside the courtroom. As Chairman of the NSC Alliance, Shaun is dedicated to strengthening the Midwest's role in national security. The Alliance was built as a neutral facilitator within the defense industrial base, focused on identifying underutilized assets, aligning public and private partners, and advancing projects that accelerate production, improve readiness, and deliver operational capability at speed.

Shaun is an Army veteran who served in Iraq in 2009. Since returning home, he has remained committed to supporting veterans and military spouses through leadership, workforce development, and community engagement initiatives, including service with organizations focused on veteran employment, transition support, and civic leadership. These efforts led him to founding The Welcome Home Forum, a leadership initiative that brings together leaders from business, government, the military, and the veteran support community to highlight the positive contributions veterans continue to make after service.
