

Early Career Launchpad

What is ECL?

The Early Career Launchpad (ECL) is a one-semester program supporting Florida Atlantic University's early-stage researchers.

- Meet other faculty
- Become familiar with funding agencies
- Learn about search engines

ECL is administered by the Office of Research Development (ORD) within the FAU Division of Research.

Who is it for?

Any PI-eligible faculty member who has served at Florida Atlantic for three years or less may take part (refer to the university's PI eligibility policy here).

What to expect?

Participants will take advantage of ORD resources and ...

- Attend 3 live webinars
- Author a Research Plan
- Take part in a capstone "Lunch & Learn"

Eligible faculty may join ECL on Canvas by Friday, Sept. 12, 2025.
