The health and overall impact of fathers and individuals who support women and birthing people has come into focus in the maternal health realm. We have seen studies that prove that maternal health is not the only determining factor in maternal and child health outcomes. In collaboration with ROBE, MHLIC is helping bring more attention to men and those who have supportive roles in the lives of women, birthing people, and their children.

By attending this webinar, participants will be able to:

- Provide resources for men and other support individuals related to Maternal and Children's Health.
- Provide examples of promising evidence-based programs and discuss the power of partnerships.
- Identify and explore barriers that affect the impact of men and other support systems.
