COVID-19: April 1 Effective Date for Families First Corona Relief Act – Emergency Leave Pay and Tax Credits

On Tuesday, March 24, the Department of Labor (DOL) announced that the effective date of the emergency leaves and tax credits available through the Families First Coronavirus Response Act \(FFCRA\) will be April 1, 2020.

PayData is preparing our systems for the release of these new Leave codes. Adding these new codes to your company is optional, and due to our audit, we do require that you complete the attached form to add these codes to your company. Click here.

The DOL also released two Fact Sheets, both of which appear to contain the same information, but it's possible they will each be updated in the future with information that is geared more toward employees or employers.

We are still waiting on regulations from the DOL to answer many questions about how these leaves will be administered and how they will interact with other leaves.

We will post updated information on PayData's COVID 19 Resource Page as soon as it is released.
