With more than 300 wineries and wine trails surrounded by stunning scenery, breathtaking views, quaint small towns and monumental historic sites, Virginia is a wine destination unlike any other. This month-long celebration is the time to celebrate the harvest, one of the best ever, to enjoy the local crush, experience world-class wines. It's also the season for oysters, apples and everything pumpkin.

Virginia is one of the only wine destinations in the country where visitors can kayak to a winery, enjoy bluegrass music while sipping local wines or sample regional wines at a National Park. There are events large and small and festivals that vary as much as the wineries. It's the time to order wine at local restaurants and to host a harvest party.

Some of Virginia's most popular October events are listed in EVENTS and at
